

Business Process Management

Reduce the cost and length of business process management projects

“SMART’s interactive technology is helping to facilitate cultural change within our organisation. It is allowing our workforce to collaborate quickly and easily on projects.”

David Dryden, Managing Partner, Cundall

SMART solutions offer new ways to improve team buy-in and collaboration

Leading a business process management project requires co-operation and support from multiple stakeholders. SMART solutions help you engage with your colleagues, suppliers and partners to improve process cycle time and quality, all at a lower cost.

The benefits of process improvement include increased quality of service, speed of delivery, and profitability of your organisation – and it requires cross-functional support, and collaboration with suppliers and customers. SMART solutions help you analyse and improve your processes as a team to ensure everyone can agree on improvements while avoiding misunderstandings.

SMART solutions can facilitate many of your team’s activities, including process mapping, brainstorming, root cause analysis and setting action plans. You can share analysis, updates and ideas across the entire team, whether they are in the same room or spread across the globe. This can help you speed up buy-in for recommendations and improvements – all for immediate cost savings.

“After the introduction of the SMART Board™, my expenses dropped tenfold. You can imagine what the figures would look like if all employees used the solution.”

Chris Hanson, International Sales Director, Computacenter

“The SMART Board interactive whiteboard has become an indistinguishable part of the way we do business. Our work sessions are much more proactive since we write down anything we discuss and can save and print those notes.”

Alejandro Hernandez, Director of Central Operation, Ocean Energy

SMART solutions allow staff in every location to see, write over, save and send electronic documents, letting you not only communicate but genuinely collaborate from anywhere in the world. This enables you to complete projects faster, while reducing travel costs and your environmental footprint.

With SMART solutions for process management, you can:

- Increase efficiency and effectiveness of meetings – share, visualise and modify the entire analysis process for more flexible, innovative planning with fewer misunderstandings
- Improve communication and engagement – truly collaborate with multiple departments, suppliers and customers in multiple locations
- Save time and money – reduce travel costs and lost time by using SMART’s data conferencing software to work with subject matter experts and stakeholders anywhere in the world
- Speed up buy-in – agree on process improvements more quickly for immediate cost savings
- Improve record keeping and documentation – write, edit, save and distribute all your meeting notes and discussions

Clearer, more accurate communication

Three key things can make a difference to your business success. Your people, their ideas and how they work together. That’s what drives SMART solutions – and it means SMART can help you deliver faster, better results across your business.
