Capture and communicate ideas with SMART business solutions

Enable cross-functional collaboration

When working with cross-functional, multidisciplinary teams, it's easy for ideas and decisions to be misunderstood or miscommunicated, especially when team members, resources and experts are geographically dispersed. That kind of misunderstanding can result in duplication of effort, mistakes and costly delays.

With the information-sharing and distance collaboration capabilities of SMART solutions, you can bring everyone together in one room, regardless of location. With our line of interactive whiteboards, display products, collaboration software, services and support, you can transform your workplaces into dynamic collaboration spaces where teamwork can thrive. You can brainstorm, work on schematics and designs, analyse data, review schedules, and capture and distribute next steps to your team – all without unnecessary travel.

Your notes and markups can be seen by all participants in real time and saved digitally for easy distribution. Because decisions and feedback can be captured and made available to stakeholders and colleagues immediately, you can identify potential design issues before production, reduce misunderstanding, speed up decision-making and ultimately complete your projects faster.

SMART solutions promote genuine collaboration, where everyone's input counts and the entire team is working toward a common goal. And being able to work on the same document or file with local or remote meeting participants means you can always tap into the best resources for the job.

Global business has made multiple-location meetings essential, but SMART solutions can make them easy, effective and practical. With SMART solutions for design engineering, you can:

- Improve design review and decision-making – share knowledge and identify potential design flaws before production begins by demonstrating project requirements and specifications
- Enhance cross-functional communication – edit documents simultaneously with local or remote meeting participants, save your changes and distribute the updated documents to your teams in real time
- Leverage your best resources – ensure you can always use the best team for the job by being able to collaborate regardless of location
- Capture everyone's input – annotate over designs and drawings, write notes over your Microsoft® Office and Adobe® application files, or capture whiteboarding notes as PPT or PDF screenshots
- Work with the same resources easily – connect SMART solutions to your network and you can access your computer's digital files and resources directly from your meeting room
- Boost productivity and efficiency – save on the cost of misunderstanding by ensuring everyone leaves meetings on the same page
- Streamline business processes – manage timelines, complex project requirements and geographically dispersed teams

Clearer, more accurate communication

Three key things can make a difference to your business success – your people, their ideas and how they work together. That's what drives SMART solutions. And it means SMART can help you deliver faster, better results across your business.
